BIZTECH SOLUTIONS, INC. AND ALLIANCE STORAGE TECHNOLOGIES, INC. ANNOUNCE RESELLER PARTNERSHIP

Piscataway, New Jersey, Tuesday, April 6, 2010: BizTech Solutions, Inc., a Gold Certified Microsoft Partner and award-winning solutions integrator for Work Process Automation and Web Business Applications; and Alliance Storage Technologies, Inc. (ASTI), a world-wide provider of storage solutions, announce their partnership whereby BizTech will resell the full line of ASTI products. BizTech will offer the storage solutions in conjunction with their document management and workflow solutions, presently implemented throughout the country in healthcare, banking, manufacturing, insurance, public utilities, and federal, state and local government.

“In the past, we have offered solutions for document and information capture, document and content management, and workflow to the marketplace. Adding the storage solutions offered by Alliance Storage Technologies provides BizTech the ability to offer that piece of the total solution that before, we didn’t offer,” says Hal Petschke, Vice President of Business Development.

Alliance Storage Technologies, Inc. provides storage solutions used by thousands of organizations worldwide across a variety of markets and applications, including medical, financial, government, broadcast and entertainment. They are available in a complete range of configurations to meet the variety of archive requirements—from small businesses to Fortune 500 corporations and government agencies.

In January 2009, ASTI completed the acquisition of all Plasmon assets, including the complete line of Plasmon libraries, drives, media, parts, and related inventory. With this acquisition, ASTI positions itself as the leader in archival data storage and continues to maintain and develop Plasmon brand solutions based on the latest UDO optical storage technology. UDO is the first storage technology specifically designed for professional and legal data archive requirements. It provides absolute data authenticity for regulatory compliance or for any application where archived information must remain intact and permanently unchanged for a long period of time.
